

The Learning LeadAbility

Learning that Builds the Ability to Lead

Enhancing human capabilities through experiential learning

The Learning LeadAbility (TLL) is a learning and development organisation focused on enhancing human capabilities through experiential learning.

About TLL

The Learning LeadAbility (TLL) facilitates transformative learning experiences for people who choose to lead—with purpose, integrity and action. We believe the ability to lead is not defined by a role or title. It is the ability to lead oneself, influence others and create meaningful impact wherever one lives, works and serves.

TLL designs and facilitates learning journeys that help people strengthen self-awareness, develop relevant knowledge and capabilities, and translate learning into purposeful action. We work primarily across the Corporate and Education sectors, while bringing a wider perspective shaped by working with social-sector, community and organisations.

Our Direction

Vision

A world where everyone has the ability to lead with self-awareness, purpose and impact

Mission

To enhance human capabilities through experiential learning - enabling people to learn, lead and create meaningful impact

Purpose

To build the LeadAbility in people to inspire others, lead with purpose and create positive change

Human Capability at the Heart of TLL

TLL believes that human capabilities are developed over time through experience, reflection, practice and purposeful application. We are interested not only in what people know, but in what they are able to do—with greater awareness, confidence, adaptability and purpose.

Our work builds capabilities such as self-awareness, communication, emotional intelligence, resilience, collaboration, influence, facilitation, leadership, personal effectiveness, adaptability and purposeful action.

Our Philosophy

Our philosophy describes a progression from personal growth to positive influence and meaningful contribution.

LEARN	LEAD	LIFT
Build yourself	Influence others	Elevate the world around you

Learn: Develop the knowledge, skills and self-awareness to better understand yourself, others and the world

Lead: Take responsibility, influence positively, and act with purpose and integrity

Lift: Contribute in ways that strengthen people, teams, organisations and communities

How We Learn

We believe meaningful learning is not delivered—it is experienced. Our learning approach creates opportunities for participants to engage with real situations, reflect thoughtfully, discover insights through dialogue and inquiry, and apply learning in ways that influence how they think, act and contribute.

EXPERIENCE	REFLECT	DISCOVER	APPLY
Learning begins with doing	Insight begins with reflection	Understanding emerges through inquiry and dialogue	Learning becomes meaningful when it changes action

Where We Create Value

TLL brings one learning philosophy to different environments, customising the experience to the people, context and outcomes that matter.

Corporate

Building human capability for workplaces where people need to lead themselves, work with others, navigate change and create value.

- Leadership and managerial capability
- Communication, collaboration and stakeholder capability
- Facilitation and team effectiveness
- Personal branding and professional identity
- Experiential learning and transformation journeys

Educational Institutions

Creating learning experiences that help young people and educators develop self-awareness, relationships and purposeful leadership.

- Life skills and student leadership
- Teacher capability and facilitation
- Experiential and project-based learning
- Communication, confidence and identity
- Purpose, sustainability and social responsibility

Social Impact Organisation

Supporting organisations and teams where facilitation, programme design and experiential learning can strengthen people and create meaningful impact.

- Facilitator development

- Programme and learning design
- Team capability
- Community and stakeholder engagement

A Signature Area: Personal Branding

TLL sees personal branding as a human capability—not simply a visibility or social-media exercise. We are developing a distinctive learning experience that helps individuals understand who they are, recognise the value they bring, articulate their story, build credibility and intentionally shape how they are experienced across professional contexts.

The ambition is to help people take greater ownership of their professional identity and the reputation they build through their choices, contributions, relationships and presence.

What Makes TLL Distinctive

Human capability over content delivery

We focus on what people become more capable of doing, not only what they know after a programme.

Experiential over purely instructional

We create learning experiences that invite people to engage, reflect, discover and apply.

Purpose-led leadership

We see leadership as a choice to influence positively and act with purpose and integrity.

Learning designed for application

We aim for learning to show up in behaviour, decisions, relationships and contribution.

Cross-sector perspective

We bring perspectives from corporate, education and social-impact environments to enrich the learning experience.

Our Values

Compassion

We listen with empathy, respect diverse perspectives, and build relationships rooted in care and trust.

Integrity

We act with honesty, responsibility and consistency, aligning our thoughts, words and actions.

Resilience

We embrace challenges as opportunities to learn, adapt and grow, and continue moving forward with purpose.

The TLL Promise

We believe learning has the power to shape people, strengthen organisations and create lasting impact.

The Learning LeadAbility

